About me

I am a front-end developer who proudly works in the field of web programming. As a front-end developer, I have a lot of interest and expertise in programming I started my programming and computer activity in 2019 with the popular C# programming language and was able to enter the big world of programming. In this way, I found my interest in front-end and started my activity in front-end and started learning it. After hard work and practice, I was able to develop several websites.

Work Experience

Weather website of Kohgiluyeh - FrontEnd Developer

The weather site of Kohgiluyeh and Boyar Ahmad province provides the weather forecast and news of this province using TailwindCSS and JavaScript in the front part.
